Regarding the media report on "Gao Hong-an was released on bail! Taipei District Prosecutors Office raised the flag of the Democratic Progressive Party", the Prosecutors Office responded as follows:

The investigation of the case where the defendant Gao and others were suspected of falsely reporting assistant fees was carried out in accordance with the established procedures for investigation and evidence collection, without any external intervention or interference, and has nothing to do with the party concerned. Today, people entered the top floor of the Prosecutors Office to hang the banner without permission is really unacceptable. We call on the outside world to look at this case rationally and leave the prosecutors with a pure space to handle the case. In the first place, whether the public is involved in legal responsibility, the Prosecutors Office will investigate and deal with it together, and handle it in accordance with relevant regulations.
